Lamar Allen's Death Loss To The Glades

W. Lamar Allen, 54 years of age, was buried Wednesday in Hillcrest Memorial Park following funeral services in the Chapel of the First Baptist Church of West Palm Beach.

Mr. Allen was a longtime Deacon of the First Baptist Church, and served as Chairman of important committees of that Board.

Lamar Allen was a member of a group of West Palm Beach business men of civic mind who have appreciated the problems of the Glades, since the early days of flood control origin.

Mr. Allen has, fortunately, been associated with RDB and with the Fair Association, and other civic groups which have taken an active participating in solving Glades problems.

The Glades has lost an effective friend!

Mr. Allen's activities on the coast for the past two decades have carried him effectively into many community and county projects.

His Presidency of the National Fair Managers' Association, following the same position with the Florida group gave Mr. Allen a wide acquaintance. His operation of the Southeast Fair, as Manager, has been a physical growth with comparative financial success.

The Glades joins the coastal area and the State in mourning a Public Spirit whose career is generously spotted with successes.

Dr. Wehlburg Promoted

Headquarters of Major General Henry W. McMillan, Adjutant General, Florida National Guard, St. Augustine, states that more than 1300 military vehicles of all types, including heavy artillery, transporting several thousand National Guardsmen and their complete field equipment will be converging on Fort Stewart at Hinesville, Georgia, near Savannah, on those dates for their annual maneuvers and field training.

This is the fourth time that the entire complement of National Guard units of Florida will be on the move at the same time and will all train together in a combined field exercise. Some of the convoys will have more than 200 units of equipment. The entire group will consist of 30 units or less.

Motorists in the northeastern part of Florida will be most likely to encounter the convoys as they converge on main routes northbound toward Hinesville, Georgia and Fort Stewart, Saturday and Sunday, June 4th and 5th, and again as they break camp and head homeward on June 17th, 18th and 19th.

Auto travelers entering or leaving Florida by way of any of the main North-South highways during the periods of June 3rd and 5th and June 17th to 19th are most likely to encounter large and small military convoys.

Convoys will move at 32 miles per hour and will make rest stops every two hours after the first hour of travel each day. Distance between trucks and other units will be maintained as near 100 feet as possible. Advance control parties will travel well ahead of the convoys and will direct traffic at all main crossings.

The Glades Platoon of the Florida National Guard, the Shore Platoon of the 1043 Transportation Company, 1st Division, will add six vehicles, 63 men and one officer, Lieut. Randall to the convoys of Florida National Guard to Ft. Stewart, Ga., near Savannah.

The local Guard Unit will leave Belle Glade at 6:00 a. m. Friday, June 3 to meet the other parts of the Com.

Nello Greer Tells Viet Experiences

Nello Greer is associated with a contractor in Vietnam, and has written to friends and members of his family about his experiences in Saigon and in East Da Nang "not far from the 17th parallel, or the dividing line of south and north Vietnam."

"When I arrived in Saigon," says Mr. Greer, "some of the fire was still burning at the airport from the shells of the night before. They just drove up to the barracks and saw hand grenades out."

"I saw a pickup stop in front of the hotel next to ours. The Marine turned his gun loose right over us, and the occupants really poked out. You can hardly get a taxi to stop in front of a hotel."

"The people just hate us, and what in the world America is doing in here I will never know — the whole damn country is not worth one American life. They can fight us for years the way our boys have to fight them now. Last night the Marines told us to stay in camp as they would about anything that moved. The Marines shot up one of our trucks in Saigon the Viet Cong had it and threw some grenades."

"We have a nice camp, one room to each person, curtains rag, writing desk, locker and large chest of drawers. I don't have enough clothes to fill the chest. The eats are good when we can get them. They come in by helicopter."

"It only takes the jets 37 minutes to go to Hanoi or wherever they drop the bombs and back; they sure do come. They say at home we are apt of ammo; if you could hear some of these battles, you wouldn't think so."

"The weather here is not too bad; it is some hotter than Florida. The rains have begun and they say it rains about 130 inches per year."

"When I went to work at night, the boss told me he had asked for an armed guard, but they told him the Viet Cong would just kill them. I asked him 'What in the hell I was doing out there then?'"

"Just before 7 a. m. this morning we started to work and when we got to the Marine base the office was locked; so we started back to the truck. All hell broke loose right next to us, about 500 feet away. We made a run for the truck and lit out for camp where we could hear the machine guns behind us. Then the big ones. The planes started dropping bombs and rockets. I was hell of a sensation standing watching them and knowing people were dying by the hundreds. The roads were full of women, children and men as we came by. The English BBC of Australia said 1,000 were killed yesterday and a thousand wounded. There were plenty today. A plane which bombed the Marines was fired on by the Marines. The plane said it was all a mistake, as he was aiming at a 50 caliber gun the Vietnamese had under one of our pile drivers.

"I guess we are in for it, as they all hate us. Which ever one wins will accuse us of helping the other side. The other side will be north because we did not help them; so both sides will hate us whichever way it goes."

"I am going to see it through and will not be home until they send me."

First All-Glades Memorial Day Parade, Ceremonies A Success

Cooperation between Glades cities made the first Memorial Day observance in the Glades a huge success.

Plans are being formulated now for a similar Memorial Day observance in honor of U. S. war dead for 1967.

Rep. Bennett Roberts, prominent Glades citizen, and resident of Belle Glade, gave the Memorial Day address before a large number of people at McDonald Park.

With Mr. Roberts on the speaker's platform were Mayor Crews of South Bay, Mayor Bailey of Belle Glade, and Mayor Padgett of Pahokee, and many of their fellow city commissioners.

Mayor Fred Sikes of Clewiston could not come due to a last minute change of plans, but sent his congratulations and best wishes with Clewiston businessman.

Girl Scouts of Pahokee and Belle Glade paraded in the event, and formed the largest single unit of 30 units to 30, according to a spokesman. Belle Glade's Lake Shore High School Band and Pahokee's East Lake High School Band put on an excellent performance and were the only full bands in the parade.

Pastor Vondreck of Belle Glade, head of the Glades Ministerial Association, gave the opening and closing prayers for our war dead at the park ceremonies. Former Mayor LeRoy Williams introduced platform guests to the audience.

Monday's Memorial Day observance was the result of the cooperation of men and women of all Glades communities, many of whom left their jobs on a day's notice to take part in the event. The parade went off smoothly, the only hiccup resulting when two horses balked at the bridge. Holding up the parade for a few moments.

Miss Palm Beach County, Shari Smith, Junior Orange Bowl Queen, both of Pahokee, added youth and beauty to the parade and park ceremonies. Little Miss Belle Glade, Janet Bonard, enjoyed it all immensely, and her charm and pretty smile never faded, even in the hot sun.

Mrs. Wallace Appreciates Good Wishes

Fifteen ladies associated with the Bank of Pahokee felt proud of Mrs. Lillian Wallace's impressive victory in the Ala. primary when she defeated ten other candidates for the position held by her husband—Governor of the State.

The Pahokee ladies told Mrs. Wallace of their feelings by letter.

Mrs. Wallace, in turn, wrote each of the ladies a personal note of thanks.

This incident might be taken as a suggestion to many others who feel as do the Pahokee ladies but haven't let Mrs. Lurleen know of it.

The honesty of intentions of the candidate are appealing, and her resounding defeat of the Kennedy-Johnson influence in her own state point a way to other states for the same relief.

Compassion

"I will have mercy on whom I will have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I will have compassion."
—Exodus 33:19

When we are faced with a difficult decision, do we sometimes rely too much on God's mercy? Is there a real guarantee that God will forgive us, merely for the asking?
Temptation surrounds us. It must be met and faced with determination and single purpose.
Let us not rely on sure forgiveness. Instead, we should seek strength to do right, to be right, and not have to live so often with the hope for forgiveness.

The surprised bride-elect who thought she was going to a church social, was presented on arrival a corsage of pink rosebuds and lilies of the valley. Crowe, Mrs. Doris Davis, Mrs. Katie Lou Martin, Mrs. Helen McKinley, and Mrs. Jewel Parlin. The refreshment table was covered with a pink cloth overlaid with white lace & centered with a beautiful and unusual wedding decoration (an original made by Mrs. W. W. Jefferies).

composed of wedding bells, stephanotis and lilies of the valley. Two tapered pink candles, decorated at the base with stephanotis carried out the pink and white color theme.

Cut flowers decorated the room with an outstanding arrangement of white spathulium. Festoons of wedding bells hung from the ceiling, and decorated corners made the room very festive.

The Honoree spent all evening opening and displaying her many lovely gifts. Forty-eight guests signed the guest register. Many guests had come earlier and left, a hostess station, and estimated about 60 guests were present in all. Mrs. Judy Sullivan was Mistress of Ceremonies in charge of organized games. Games prizes were won by Mrs. Lillie Mae Matthews, Mrs. Robert Garrett and Mrs. H. C. Willis.

In Appreciation

To Senior Class Sponsors:
Mrs. Joan Lanier, Mr. Bert Ward, Mr. Joe Hayes, Mrs. Lucille Nickles, Mrs. Mary Stevenson, and Mrs. Judith Laaksonen.

We, the seniors of '66 would like to express appreciation to our class sponsors for all they have done for us.

They have not only been our sponsors, but our friends and leaders. To express how we feel about them would be difficult, because it would be hard to put into words our deeply felt appreciation for their guidance and time so willingly given toward the betterment of our class.

In a few days, we will receive a diploma that certifies that we have accomplishments and qualifications to face the future. We wish to thank our sponsors who have helped us attain this honor and place today. Our association with them will be one of our most pleasant memories.

Rev. Roseman Addresses

On May 29 an inspirational ceremony was presented to the graduating 1966 Belle Glade High School Seniors. The main speaker was Rev. Richard Roseman of St. Peter's Lutheran Church.

The topic was "Prepare to March." He told about all the trials and tribulations the graduating seniors would encounter one year from that day. He illustrated this by many examples.

Users for the religious ceremony were Ronnie Geroy, Pat Bowen, Eddie Vandergrieff, Janice Blumenthal, Olga Ortiz, Jane Zumph and Doris Willis.

The only decoration adorning the stage of the gymnasium were two baskets of yellow and white mums, which were the class colors and flowers.

Grades Added Up

Final test are being given to all students this week. The Seniors' test started Tuesday where as the underclassmen began Wednesday. The testing is over a period of three days, because each test is allowed one hour and 40 minutes.

The Seniors will know whether they pass for the year by Friday afternoon. However all grade reports will be mailed June 10.

Where The Action Was

Yes, these hallowed halls are where the action was;

And where it seemed it endlessly would last;

But for us, the seniors of sixty-six, the action will soon be past.

Oh, it's not the school we'll miss so much;

For the school is cement, steel, and glass;

The things we'll look back to, and long to touch;

Are the things that in our hearts will last;

Like the knowledge gained;

And the friends we've made

And the times we've had, gone and past.

So now we reminisce, hug and kiss;

And walk that aisle with tears and a smile;

And we're on our way out of today;

Into the new and unknown tomorrow;

Good-bye, Belle Glade High, Good-bye.

—Pat Gilbert

Senior Highlights

Remember the first day of school? How we came on August 30th anxious to see our old friends that we hadn't seen all summer yet reluctant to begin our last year of high school. The new teachers, scheduled mix-up, and new students all made the first two weeks exciting.

The first Pep Rally on September 17 helped to kick football season off with a bang. We only lost two games and that didn't dampen the spirit of the Rams. The highlight of the season was the Palooka game. The Devils burned on Belle Glade's field November 24, with a 14-7 victory for the Rams. After the game captains and sponsors went out on the field to accept the Bill Young Memorial Trophy. We also won the conference.

A week later basketball season started and the Rams ended it with over all 16 games won and 6 lost. The season was highlighted with Tony's 1,000 points.

The year was routine after the year with only senior placements, S. A. T., and other College Boards. We found ourselves desperately competing with other students all over America for a seat in college.

In March we staged the hysterical comedy "Boys and Ghouls Together."

Spring brought out baseball, bats, tennis rackets, golf clubs, track shoes and many anxious players. All these participants aided B. G. H. S. in attaining the all conference sports award.

Then May came and Juniors began making their plans for the prom. During the week of prom decorating every senior felt the pang of realization that soon the year would be over and they would no longer be an active part of high school activities. The theme was "Love is a Many Splendored Thing" and over and over we were reminded of our own "Twilight Time." Especially at the banquet when Teresa and Kathy expressed for us through the class song, something we couldn't express in words. The happy exciting, fun-filled, intelligent, and thrilling week we spent last year transforming the drab old gym into a mysteriously majestic cave which revealed to the rest of the students our class motto "Out of the Darkness into the Light" was revived at the banquet this year as we heard the words to "Twilight Time" being sung so beautifully.

The week after the prom the FAREWELL was presented to the school. We dedicated our action filled world to Coach Davis and Coach Crawford. Even the Juniors admitted they couldn't beat our newly designed covers. Then the closing activities began. Class night was on Friday, May 27 and it was a preview of our future plans. One of the 29th Baccalaureate was held in the gym. The speaker was Reverend Roseman and on June 3rd will come the grand finale of this year's activities.

Some will smile, others will cry, and most will do a little of both as they dream and wonder of the future. Most of us have some plans for our lives after graduation. College, service and jobs head the list. But still, anxious as we are to start in our newly created future, we want to linger a little longer with our friends and those wonderful people who have given us the background on which we must depend if we are to do well in the future. As we walk down that aisle we'll be reaching for a star; a long sought after goal which will finally be ours.

Honorable Mention

Over the past years, certain students have been presented as honorable mention graduates. These students maintained an A-B average from the ninth grade to the fifth six weeks of their senior year.

And to the graduates, this has a terrific significance. It means that you have finished a very important part of your schooling. Not all, perhaps, but each of you have something now that no one can take from you.

You may not realize it, but in the years to come you will look back on these days as the happiest, most carefree of them all. Treasure them, remember them, and your classmates.

Herald Staff's Parked Autos Seem Jinxed

The crew at The Herald seem to be an ill-fated group where cars are concerned.

Tuesday, the 1962 Rambler, owned by printer Inzer Shubert and his wife Sonia who works in the camera department, was hit by a driverless Falcon, and with a loud bang landed up on the sidewalk.

Owner of the Falcon, John Charles Cabel of 1510 Seabrook Rd. Jupiter, said he had just parked across the street near the Standard Station and left the car, when someone yelled to tell him his car was moving. Making a half-circle curve across main street, the Falcon, which was just purchased the previous day, beat the owner in the race. Cabel explained that "the park didn't work."

The Shubert's car had just been repaired and repainted from a previous hit and run accident while parked at night in front of their apartment one evening recently.

A few weeks ago our "outside man" Leon Boykin sold his '63 Volkswagen to Mary Mathewson "in excellent condition" but before driving the car back to Tallahassee, Miss Mathewson drove to WPB to have it checked out. All ok.

But enroute home — only blocks from the service plant, a loud bang — and the car was afire, resulting in a total loss.

Two freak accidents banged both back fender's of Yvonda Mathewson's car just a few months ago. The first

D. C. T. Club Banquet Held At Holiday Inn

The Lake Shore High School D. C. T. Club held its second annual banquet at the Holiday Inn on May 24, 1966. Speaker was Mr. John H. Howell, the D. C. T. Coordinator of Palmetto High School. Mr. Howell's speech was very stimulating and to the point. Dean Todd was there telling jokes making everyone laugh like a good toastmaster should. Gloria McCall and Mildred Johnson were the two members to receive the merit award for outstanding work in the D. C. T. Program. The D. C. T.ers would like to express their deepest thanks to their beloved employers, teachers, parents, administrators and advisory board members for the wonderful cooperation given them through out the year.

Light colors make a small room seem larger than it really is. If you have a small bathroom, keep this in mind when you remodel. Another way to create a feeling of spaciousness is to stick to one color for walls and ceilings.

Farm Front

Expansion of the war in Viet Nam, or bad weather, or both, could force us to tighten our belts next year.

Unofficial Washington sources are speculating that some sort of federal control of our food supply might become necessary if we have a run of bad luck in the months ahead.

The potential for a food crisis stems from the fact we have a very limited reserve food supply to draw upon in case of national emergency.

For example, although wheat surpluses were regarded as the No. 1 oversupply problem five years ago, the storehouses have been drained and, by next year, will be about half of what Washington considers an "adequate" reserve supply.

That is assuming, of course, that nothing is done to reverse the draining trend. It also assumes, however, that we'll manage to maintain the status quo in Viet Nam as well as avoid generally poor farm weather this year.

Here is a thumbnail inventory of our national pantry.

Production this year will be below requirements (to feed us) in wheat, rice, oilseeds and milk. Not as critical as the others but serious enough to mention, the "raw materials" for our meat supply — corn and other feed grains — are not keeping up with demand.

The numbers of cattle and hogs are close to a supply-demand balance now, but shortages will show up quickly, and prices skyrocket, if the war expands. Weather perhaps dealt our national fruit-vegetable supply a more serious blow this month in other production areas than it did in Florida when crops were temporarily set back in late January. Fruits from other states won't be quite as plentiful in the next few months as usual.

And the vegetable outlook, though good this summer, is tempered by the government labor policies which have made serious inroads into the harvest labor supply. Unless new policies are executed in the near future (in more areas than farm labor), the pantry may be unusually skimpy next year.

Pomp and Circumstance

By The Rampage Editors

Tomorrow June 3rd will be a big day for the graduates of Belle Glade High School. Approximately 107 students will walk down the aisle to a new world of their own. They will look through a new world, many with a smile and thanks in their eyes, some with a tear gliding down their cheeks as Pomp and Circumstance sounds through the gym.

Although many of the long treasured friends and friendships will go their different ways, they try to say to one another in an assumed "I'll meet again" and then memories soon start to arise. Football, Junior Prom, building the spots, receiving your jacket, getting your class rings, Pep Rallies, Pukee Game, that certain special someone that you're leaving behind, winning the conference, second dances, awards assemblies, class play, being elected to an office, getting the annual and of all things to remember, remember.

As the clock strikes eight they will file in two-by-two hand and hand. Knowing that this will be their last stand.

Libby White and Glen Wolf, two of the honor students, will present the speeches. Libby will bestow the welcome and Glen will deliver the farewell.

Then the senior class of sixty-six is near the end. For on the stage the graduates' names are soon to be called. Mrs. Lanier will call the girls' names, with Mr. Marquess calling the boys. Mr. Ralph Powell, Director of Economic Opportunity, will hand the diplomas to each graduate.

Then with the diplomas in one hand and a firm handshake with the other, each will stop to move the tassels from the left to the right.

With a helping hand, Mr. Morris, will lead each one down the steps. For now all students realize that they have reached one of their main goals.

Then they take their seats to watch and listen as the alumnus nears the end. So when it does, once again they walk hand in hand into a world and unknown land. A tear and faint smile will appear not only among the graduating class, but Juniors too. Because they soon realize how close knit the year or 1965-66 has been to them. So then the sound of "War of the Peace" begins to play. The Senior Class of Sixty-Six is on its way.

A Good System

One of the side products of the profit motive under capitalism is voluntary individual giving on an astronomical scale.

Writing in "The Generosity of Americans," author Arnold C. Marks states that "... private citizens in this country give $11 billion a year in private generosity for the public good." One prominent businessman explains such generosity as essential to the preservation of the personality of the giver and to the saving of our society and the world. Aside from individual generosity, it should not be forgotten that under capitalism the profit system, by its very nature, does contribute to the public good. The profit motive stimulates investments that provide employment and build stable communities.

We have reason to be proud of capitalism. It is a good system.

A Real Opportunity

Prospect for labor reform legislation are improving, but no hasty action is anticipated. There probably never was a more receptive public attitude toward labor reform, due to the costly New York transit strike and the more recent damaging rail strike.

Some proposals offered for consideration are: 1. Abolish ULRB and assign its functions to a Labor Court; 2. Extend protection against compulsory union membership, now in 19 states, to the 50 states; 3. Guarantee secret elections in deciding on whether to have a union; 4. Protect members against union fines in exercising right to work; 5. Restore free speech to employers; 6. Relieve employers from having to rehire strikers who engage in violence or coercive activity.

There is a real opportunity to protect both the public and the workman from destructive labor warfare that is so damaging to the nation and the time to start is now. The Washington Report of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, says that the prospect for "labor reform legislation" is improving, but that it won't come tomorrow.

Uncle Dan From Doobie Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Back in the good old days, afore the Supreme Court took over the law-making business and started running the country, June was the month for brides. But it looks like this generation ain't got no respect for the traditions of their ancestors. I was reading a piece in the papers yesterday where August was running first in the bride business and June was second.

The wedding folks was to blame for this disrespect for June on account of they always set the wedding date. I was complaining about this matter to my old lady last night and she allowed as how it was a woman's right to get wed in whatever month suited her fancy and she would prefer not to hear no comment from the men on the subject. I took the hint and sneaked out the back door.

In case you didn't look note of it, Mister Editor, women was getting to be a major social problem in this country. They was working in them Nevada gambling joints, trapped to the waist, running for Governor in Georgia, and trying to join the Marine Corps in Florida.

I saw where one girl that was graduating from high school reported she aimed to pick out the college that suited her hair do and had the best record for demerolizing.

I got a heap of sympathy for that Methodist preacher in one of them big cities the other

According to The National Education Program Letter, "We're told 'times never better.' Yes—we just forgot our local, state and federal government indebtedness of approximately $500 billion (all of our names are on the borrowers' notes, our property is the collateral); if we ignore the relentless month by month inflationary destruction of our dollars' purchasing power; if we let out of our mind's eye the storm and strife of our internal disorders and the continued agitation to further ignite and explode them into a holocaust."

Robert P. Griffin, U.S. Representative from Michigan, said: "To force a worker to join a union, and then to use his dues for politics, is to make him a second-class citizen."

Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine, says if you are "making more now, but enjoying it less" you have "prosperity disease" . . . This comes from confusing luxuries with necessities, and trying to own all the extras . . .

J. B. Priestley, the English writer, says: "I have never seen why young men in universities, turning them selves into mischievous and sometimes dangerous mobs, should be treated indulgently . . . Students are not supposed to be ignorant and stupid. If they are, then they should be sent home and not receive education at public expense . . ."

"Persons hardest to convince are of retirement age are children at bedtime."

WHO GETS CLIPPED—The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has admitted sending copies of a booklet glorifying the Administration to every barbershop in the nation. Rep. Melvin Laird (R-Wis.) termed the project a misuse of taxpayer dollars, adding: "I send my own campaign literature to barbershops, but I pay for it myself."

WAR ON POVERTY—Residents of Boone County, Ind., decided by a 15 to 1 margin to rely on self help through local welfare agencies and civic groups. The action follows closely a similar rejection by Hendricks County, Ind., which turned down federal aid by an 8 to 1 margin.

IS MAY LIKE NOVEMBER—Rep. Catherine May (R-Wash.) polled her constituents and discovered they opposed foreign aid at current high spending levels, the sale of grain to the Communist bloc, and repeal of 14 (b) of the Taft-Hartley Act. By a margin of 5 to 1 they favor postponement of "Great Society."

Defying The Courts

Leaders of the New York transit strike defied court orders. Now we have witnessed an example of the railroad unions defying a court order forbidding any strike in connection with the expiration of a federal arbitration ruling under which nearly 20,000 firemen's jobs had been eliminated as unnecessary on freight and yard diesel engines.

If any ordinary citizen defies a court order, he is cited for contempt and fined or goes to jail, or both. The railroad unions after disrupting the country's transportation system got the same medicine. It's high time unions learned they cannot thumb their noses at the courts and disrupt the lives of a nation. They should pay fines and damages the same as any citizen or corporation.

The refreshment table lovely with a white net over white linen cloth, was skirted with wedding bells and streamers at the front. The floral arrangement featured antique white fern, gold and pink mums and baby breath with a miniature bride and groom at the center.

The bride-elect's corsage of white frangipani was sprinkled with miniature hearts and wedding bells. Her mother, Mrs. Calvin Peacock and Mrs. Earl Welty mother of the bridegroom-elect wore orchid corsages.

Miss Paula Gail Bryant kept the guest book. Mrs. Verlon Jones was in charge of the entertainment, including games and contests. Prizes were won by Mrs. Peggy Harris and Miss Sharon Jones.

Johnson-Nestor Wedding Vows Said

Miss Marjorie Fay Johnson became the bride of Edwin Clifford Nestor at a candlelight ceremony, May 27th at 8 p. m. at the First Baptist Church in Belle Glade, before an altar with fifteen branches of white candles trimmed with smilax.

The Church was flanked with palms and decorated with arrangements of white gaidiol, chrysanthemums, and stock. Rev. R. L. Polk of the South Bay Baptist Church officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Johnson, 101 S. W. 1st Avenue, South Bay, and was given in marriage by her father. She is a graduate of Belle Glade High School, Class of '63, and attended Palm Beach Junior College for two years, where she was a member of Tri Omega.

The bride wore a formal length dress of ruffled hand clipped chintilly lace with a pearl embroidered front panel. The dress featured a scalloped neckline, long tapered sleeves with hand-clipped points over the wrist, and a six-tier peacock train.

A crown of crystals and pearls held a triple French illusion veil. She carried a white Bible with white cattleya orchid with stephanotis and pearls.

Maid of Honor was Miss Bonnie Anderson of West Palm Beach and Belle Glade. Her short sleeve style apricot dress was lace over satin with bell sleeves. She wore a crystal drop necklace given to her by the bride, and her headpiece was a rounded rim, covered with lace and satin and a short veil of French illusion net. She carried a cascade of mint green cymbidium orchids & camellia foliage.

Bridesmaids wore dresses of mint green with matching accessories, and carried cascades of apricot orchids and camellia foliage. Bridesmaid were Miss Dixie Awbrey of Belle Glade, Miss Lynda McCoy of Miami, both cousins of the bride, and Miss June Nestor, sister of the groom and decorated with wedding bells, flowers, and topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Allen McCoy, of Miami, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer, and Mr. Jerry Holcomb of Cleveiston was best man. Ushers were Mr. Van Robertson of Belle Glade, Mr. Boe Lindsey of Cleveiston, and Mr. Wayne Motes, nephew of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Johnson wore a fitted sheath of pink lace over silk with matching accessories, and a corsage of cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Nestor chose a two-piece open suit of beige silk shantung with rose pink accessories and a corsage of cymbidium orchids.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Myrtle D. Nestor of Pahokee and the late Clifford Nestor. He is a graduate of Belle Glade High School, class of '63, and a member of the 4th Armored Battalion, Marine Reserve Unit, West Palm Beach. He is employed by the Peninsular Insurance Company, of Belle Glade.

The program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Betty Thiebaut. Mr. Milton Carpenter sang "Two Shall Be One," and "The Lord's Prayer."

A reception followed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. DeGraw, 216 N. W. Ave. D, Belle Glade. The DeGraw home was beautifully decorated. The wedding cake was three tiered, and decorated with wedding bells, flowers, and topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Out-of-town guests were from West Palm Beach, Miami, Orlando, and Pahokee. For her traveling suit the bride chose a royal blue two-piece shantung suit, trimmed in white organza with white accessories, and a white orchid corsage.

After a honeymoon on the East Coast, the newlyweds will be in residence in South Bay, after May 31st.

Page 4B THE HERALD, Belle Glade, Fla. JUNE 2, 1966

So Long And Thank You!

With the publication of our final '65-'66 RAMPAGE the staff would like to bestow thanks and bid farewells.

A very special thanks goes to the Belle Glade Herald staff and management. Not only did they give us a whole page of the Herald each week, but put up with us bringing in late copy, hand-written copy, unproofed copy, Mrs. Mathewson and Mr. Stewart taught the editors how to lay out a page and showed the class through the office. The interest, cooperation, and friendship of the entire staff is sincerely appreciated.

And to the readers of the RAMPAGE, we appreciate your support. It is YOUR page. We have worked long and hard on it for you and we hope you've enjoyed it. It's been lots of fun and a real experience for us.

The editors would also like to thank the class for their long hours of work on all those sports articles, news stories, and features. Without them there would be no RAMPAGE.

So long.

It's Wonderful!

Graduation Day! It's a proud moment for every Senior; a culmination of years of work and study and steadfast purpose.

Our thoughts and good wishes are with the Seniors at this special time. With esteem and respect we wish them a future of success and happiness.

NOT MY JOB

How often have you heard someone say, "I'm sorry it wasn't done, but it's not my job. I took care of getting my work done?"

It happens all the time. Many employees feel no responsibility to the over-all operation of the company for which they work. They feel they are paid, so to speak, for piece-work.

Many of us approach life in the same fashion. We concern ourselves only with the things which directly affect us in some way.

We wouldn't stop on an Interstate Highway to help someone in trouble. Yet, if a car stalled on a one-lane bridge, blocking our progress, we might, at least, help push the car across the bridge so we might be on our way.

Maybe we would discover a little more of happiness and satisfaction if, once in a while, we did something, not because we had to do it, but just because we wanted to do it. If we did this, we might discover in a moment of need that someone was willing to help us.

Book Of The Week

THE TIME MACHINE,
H. G. Wells

This is truly an exciting compelling science fiction type of novel that holds special interest to those interested in the field of science. The Time Traveler tells a small group of people including an editor, a medical man, a journalist, a psychologist, how he built and operated a machine that traveled into the fourth dimension of time. He starts the novel by telling about a long fall, the blending of day and night together and his arrival finally into the year 802,701. He found the world in a rather deplorable condition; civilization had been divided into two species, one species called The Eloi, were beautiful people that occupied the over-world. They had the intelligence of an average five year old and were strictly vegetarians. Because of their mental level they seemed to lack ambition and allowed themselves to be kept, fed and eaten by the second species called Morlocks, who were horrible apelike creatures of the underworld. The Time Traveler thinks that perhaps some time ago the Morlocks were servants of the Eloi and were probably banished to the under regions. Somewhere, however, the Morlocks had gained control and were now in command. The Time Traveler wondered how civilization arranged to get itself in this horrible predicament. There were several shocking and terrifying episodes in this novel which will really arouse the readers interest. If you are a science fiction fan, then this is really the book for you.

Snooping Around Sophomores

Hello friends have you heard the latest or are you waiting for me? I hope so because this is the latest. To begin with I'm going to tell you something about someone in each section of the sophomores.

Lena D. why didn't you run for Miss Junior Attendant? I know you're qualified. What happened?
 Nathaniel K. are you still here? I haven't seen you in ages. My first time seeing you in two or three weeks was yesterday. Where were you?

Joseph H. I hear you were elected President of the Junior Class. Do you think you're qualified? I've heard whisperings around the corridors.

Rebecca A. I'm awfully sorry about my nearly tripping over you. Really, I didn't see you. My you're small, when are you going to grow? You'd better hurry up, no one's going to wait for you. Ha! Ha! Ethel L., do you still love R. J. He's quite loose, isn't he? Or have you two called it quits?

 George W. playtime is over. You have only two more years in school or can't you count? If you don't perk up and in a hurry, aren't you afraid you'll have three or more years. Your playing years finished a year ago. Haven't you adjusted yet? Grow up.
 Betty B. and Mary W. what do you two find to talk about so much you talk from 8:30 in the morning until 3:30 P. M. don't you get tired? I know if I stood and listened to you two talk I would know everything that happened. 10-4 doesn't need a radio!

Good Etiquette

"THE ART OF CONVERSATION"
 Ideal conversation is an exchange of thought, and not, as many of those who worry most about their shortcomings believe, an eloquent exhibition of wit or oratory. Fortunately for most of us, it is not necessary to have any very special gift of cleverness to be a person with whom others are delighted to speak.

Be calm! There is nothing to fear if you are one of those who dread meeting strangers because you are afraid, you won't be able to think of anything to say, you might do well to remember that most of the faults of conversation are committed not by those who talk little, but by those who talk too much.
 A bore is almost always one whose voice is never still. A tactless person invariably rushes in with what should never be said.

Maggie's Advice

Dear Maggie,
I'm having trouble with my school work. I can't seem to concentrate any more. Even though I try, it's a problem.

Idler

Dear Idler,
The reason you can't concentrate in your classes is because you have too many things occupying your mind. As I have already said many times before: (1) Be attentive, (2) recite regularly and ask questions about that which you don't understand. I'm sure you'll soon see some results.

Maggie

Dear Maggie,
How can I tell an old beau that I don't want to date him anymore. He doesn't say anything to me himself but he tells other people to talk to me for him. He says that he still cares for me but I don't believe him. What can I do?

Troubled

Dear Troubled,
There isn't any need for you to tell your old beau that you don't want to date him anymore. Evidently you still care for him. If you didn't you wouldn't pay any attention to what he says. Tell the people who deliver his messages to tell him to talk for himself. I'm sure you will be able to forget that you ever broke up. Smile.

Maggie

Vivian B. my you're lonesome aren't you? It was nice while you had him, what happened? Frank E. you and your girl are the only two I see together all the time. My, you have a wholesome love! I hope it lasts even though — and — are jealous of her.

Tips On Dating

One of the responsibilities that goes with dating is knowing how to use available resources for whole some dating. Until your interest develops and your horizons widen, you may not be fully aware of the possibilities open to you in your own neighborhood. As you become accustomed to thinking in terms of dating resources, you will become increasingly able to find ways to have a variety of satisfying dates. The next time you are faced with the question of what to do on a date you might consider one or more of the following possibilities.

1. Regardless of where you live, there probably is a movie somewhere in your vicinity. As you become aware of other dating resources, you will find yourself going to the movies only when something especially interesting is playing. As you become more selective, you will find yourself enjoying these choice movies much more.

2. Here is something about movie dates that both young men and women should know. While the fellow buys the tickets the girl steps aside and looks at the stills out side to avoid the boy any embarrassment he may feel at the ticket window.

3. If you're going steady, you should be even more eager to keep your dates interesting. By now, you have probably gotten to the point where your date helps decide what you're going to do. In addition to the movies and evenings at home, plan something special once in a while. You and your steady date should be at the point where conversation comes easily. Having occasional dates which provide the opportunity for long talks will lead to even further understandings.

Wherever you go, whatever you do, whoever you are, try to relax and be yourself. Your richest satisfaction comes when you realize that your date and others accept you as you really are.

Hey students, from the looks of recent report cards, it seems as though "spring fever" has gotten around to everybody. Seniors, do you realize you've spent approximately 12,960 hours at these desks. Depending of course, on how many times you've skipped class and how many times you were absent. A staggering thought don't you think?

1,345 Sq-mile Conservation Areas Vital To Fish, Wildlife & Humans

Drastic changes in regulatory water levels in the Everglades Conservation Areas could endanger both the lower Florida East Coast fresh water supply and wildlife, it was announced today.

Noting that some groups have been urging lower levels in the 914-square-mile water storage area in the interior of Broward and Dade counties, Dail said various factors dictate the depth of water in the marshland reservoir.

He explained that the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission and the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service were consulted when the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers and the FCD planned the three vest Everglades water storage areas which cover 1,345 square miles.

The regulatory water levels then established were considered the most adequate to serve the purpose, including preservation of wildlife, recharging of fresh water well fields, prevention of salt water intrusion, and irrigation," said Dail.

Actually, the surface depths of the three huge conservation areas, generally are one and one-half foot or less," he said.

Most of the water lies beneath the surface in pockets and porous materials — the key to storage in a unique area. Thus, when engineers report a stage of 9.47 feet, as they did May 1 for Conservation Area 3, they refer to "above mean sea level," not the surface depth of water above ground which is shallow.

Shallow surface depths, agreed upon by wildlife agencies, are necessary in the Conservation Areas to preserve wildlife and to insure vegetation as close as possible to Nature's plan, he said.

The FCD assuredly will not maintain levels that could precipitate such a danger," Dail asserted.

He said the Corps of Engineers also has created additional tree islands in the conservation areas to supplement the natural vegetation as a means to prevent damage to levees by wind tide.

Dail noted that the Everglades Conservation Areas are not designed to store water indefinitely, but serve to conserve water from one rainy season to the next in efforts to assure supplies during the annual dry period. He said they are not 100 per cent effective and extended droughts such as that from 1961 to late 1965 diminish the degree of effectiveness.

"And yet," he said, "their value even during drought was evidenced through the absence of much fire which used to rage in the Everglades during dry periods."

Marine Corp. C. M. McWhorter Received Promotion Warrant

Marine Corporal Charles R. McWhorter, son of Mr. C. L. McWhorter of 157 S. E. Fourth St., N., Belle Glade, Fla., is presented a promotion warrant to his present rank by Captain

R. T. Himmerich aboard the world's only nuclear-powered guided missile cruiser the USS Long Beach.

His promotion was based on time in service and rank, military appearance, and his knowledge of selected military subjects.

The Long Beach is the latest of the nuclear-powered surface ships to arrive in the Pacific. She will join the nuclear carrier USS Enterprise and the nuclear frigate Bainbridge for duty in the Pacific.

The frog fish, like those at the Miami Seaquarium, is named because its fins are mounted on arm-like extensions which permit it to climb frog-like through the weeds in which it makes its home.

Calvin Newton Graduates From Recruit Training

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (PTI) May 12 — Marine Private Calvin J. Newton, son of Mrs. Sarah N. Taylor of 841 South West Ave., D. Belle Glade, Fla., was graduated from Marine recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot here.

During his eight weeks of intensified recruit training under veteran noncommissioned officer Drill Instructors, he learned small arms marksmanship, bayonet fighting, and methods of self-protection. He also received instruction in military drill, history and traditions of the Marine Corps, and other academic subjects.

He will undergo four weeks of individual combat training and four weeks of basic specialist training in his military occupational field before being assigned to a permanent unit.

What's Today's Supermarket?

And what is the "typical" American supermarket like today? The trade magazine SUPER MARKET MERCHANDISING sizes up the typical one:

It contains 14,343 square feet of floor space, including 10,050 in the sales area. The parking lot will hold 190 cars.

Annual sales volume is some $14 million for the store — something over $27,000 per week. Purchases each week total 5,508, an average transaction being in the amount of $5.

The store employs 19 persons full-time and 12 others part-time.

Supermarket management considers sales-per-square-foot a key factor in evaluating the effective utilization of space. If the figure is too low, management seeks out the "dead weight" burdening precious sales space and cuts it out.

It is estimated that the typical market receives $2.74 each week for every square foot of sales area.

Florida's 1,019 supermarkets, by the way, seem to surpass what is "typical" nationally. Annual sales volume per Florida market is $16 million (compared to the $14 million nationally). More than one-third of all the supermarkets in an 8-state South Atlantic region are located in the Sunshine state.

Tips For The June Bride Before You Buy Furniture

Before you even start on a shopping spree for furnishings for your first home, think through, discuss with your "to-be", and list your basic requirements for a place or places to eat, for sleeping and resting, bathing and dressing, relaxation and entertainment, reading, hobbies and recreation, and equipment for maintenance for furnishings and space.

Next, think through your minimum needs for storage keeping in mind that items should be stored where they are used.

Now that you've made a list of what you need, think and add specific requirements you desire in each furnishing that will serve your purposes such as a bed, king-size - since husband is over 5' 10"; exact size of chest or table to fit available space.

Specifying definitely and accurately what you need will help you avoid overlooking details that should be considered before you make purchases.

Members of Beta Xi Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, held a Bridge Party at the Municipal Country Club at 8:00 p. m. May 26. The public was invited and a good crowd was in attendance.

Refreshments were available throughout the evening and at the conclusion of the card playing, a Dutch Auction was held. Mr. Harold Rabin proved to be a very able auctioneer and the articles up for sale, a beautiful white hand knit sweater coat made by Mrs. Garold McKee, was finally purchased by Mr. Joe Gortham.

The two door prizes were won by Mrs. Marlin Chapman and Mrs. Tim Boyans. All proceeds from this event will be donated to the Glades General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stewart and daughters, Tina and Lynda, will be moving Saturday to Naples, where Mr. Stewart has been working for about three weeks. Harold, who was formerly employed by the Herald, spent the past weekend here and the family attended class night on Friday. Lynda will graduate from Belle Glade High on Friday night.

Even though alone, a homemaker should sit down to a nourishing lunch. A simple lunch, and one that can be prepared with little fuss, is a salad and milk. The leafy greens and vegetables or fruits furnish needed vitamins and minerals; the milk supplies valuable protein, calcium and riboflavin. Round out the meal with a slice of buttered toast.
